Mennonite General Conference

Amos O. Hostetler, Secretary

If all the conferences eligible for membership in General Conference would participate in General Conference and send a full quota of delegates to its biennial meetings, a representation of 330 ordained brethren would be present. At present there are fourteen district conferences participating. There are five other district conferences eligible for membership which do not claim it at this time. The last three General Conference sessions have been attended by an average of 141 delegates. In the fourteen conferences participating in General Conference there is a total quota of 230 delegates. This shows that 61.3 per cent of the delegates of the participating conferences have attended the last three sessions.

The Mennonite General Conference meets biennially in the odd years on the fourth Wednesday of August unless otherwise determined by the Executive Committee. The next meeting of the Conference will be August 26-30, 1953, at Kitchener, Ontario. Plans are being made for a five-day conference. The first two days will be business sessions in which delegates will receive and act upon reports from the various boards and committees reporting to General Conference. The last three days are to be of inspirational nature for the membership of the whole church who can arrange to attend and enjoy the fellowship together. Why not make this a top year for delegate representation?

It may be well to remind ourselves again of the purpose and work of the General Conference as defined by its Constitution.

1. To define the position of the Mennonite Church on any question of faith and doctrine which may be brought before it for consideration.

2. To give advice on any matter brought before it by a district conference having representation in General Conference.

3. To labor for harmony among all the forces of the church in methods of work and in points of faith and doctrine so far as this can be done in accordance with the principles and spirit of the Gospel.

4. To assume supervisory direction of the activities of the organizations and institutions under its control.

5. To collect, hold, and pay out funds in such a manner and for such purposes as it shall from time to time decide.

I would now like to take the reader back to the very first session of Mennonite General Conference in 1898. The minutes of the first meeting are recorded in a small booklet of 19 pages. Seventy-eight ordained brethren attended the conference. Twenty-one of those attending were bishops and twenty-three were ministers appointed as delegates. This makes a total delegation at the first General Conference of 44.

From the minutes of the first meeting we have the following: "This is a consummation in part of what has been in the minds of many people for twenty-five years. It has taken all this time to bring about our first General Conference. The work to today is of great importance and it concerns the whole church. The idea of conference is, as the word suggests, to consult and to confer together on subjects which concern the church." A difficult and major question facing the church in that day was, "How gain and maintain Christian piety and unity?"

The first General Conference had met to face this question. Seven district conferences were represented with delegates and four conferences were represented without delegates. Comparing the size of the 1898 report (a booklet 3 x 5 inches with 19 pages) with the 1951 report ( a booklet 5½ x 7½ inches with 156 pages); and the seven participating conferences in 1898 with fourteen participating conferences in 1951; and the loosely organized conference in 1898 with the present organization of six standing committees, a General Council of thirty-two members and the major boards, committees, etc., one cannot help but recognize the important and increasing growth and responsibilities of the General Conference. Is it not strange that the problems of a half century ago are still our problems today? The prince of the power of the air is still trying his best to put schisms into the church and to destroy the piety and unity which ought to be found there. We need to arm ourselves therefore more earnestly with the whole armor of God that we may be able to withstand all the fiery darts of the evil one.

As nearly as I am able to find out, only one member of that first General Conference is living at this time and that brother is inactive. General Conference was brought into being by those who have had vision and carried forward in the convictions and direction God gave them. We must continue on. We must defend the truth and herald it forth by both precept and example. We have become a big organization. We need to be careful that we do not become over-organized. There is danger in over-organization. With many boards, committees, commissions, corporations, etc., there is a tendency to overlap and sometimes to overreach. It takes much wisdom, charity, and prayer for the General Conference to serve the whole church as it ought to. May everyone who reads this article breathe a special prayer in behalf of the work of General Conference and for those who are responsible for guiding its work.

There were times in the history of the Mennonite General Conference when its Executive Committee found itself in need of a larger counseling group. The work between sessions of General Conference was to be taken care of by the Executive Committee. At different times some of the church leaders were called together for counsel on pertinent issues facing the church. An example of this would be in time of World War II when the church was asked to set up and administer CPS camps. The question always confronted the Executive Committee, who should be invited to the counsel meeting and how large a group should it be. In 1949 General Conference through change of constitution provided for such a counseling group. This is a much better arrangement than formerly.

The General Council is made up of a group of brethren chosen by conferences, boards, and committees. Each district conference has one representative on the Council; each standing committee of General Conference elects one member to the Council; each Board elects one member to the Council; and the members of the Executive Committee are members of the Council. This makes a total representative group of thirty-two members at present. The Council is now in its fourth year of work. The Council tries to meet biannually. The spring meeting is held usually during the first week in April or near there and the fall meeting varies from the months of October to December.

The Council serves to co-ordinate the work of the boards and committees; to take care of any emergencies arising between Conference sessions; to determine the budget and raise the funds necessary for the operation of General Conference and its committees; to receive and review all reports and matters of recommendation and decide what should and should not be brought before the General Conference when in session.

There is indeed a definite need for this representative Council. The Council is conscious of its place and assignment and is carefully alert to the danger of assuming work which rightly belongs to General Conference proper. This body does not want to become a conference at work. It is rather to be a servant of the Conference, and all its work is subject to ratification by the General Conference. This body is in need of and desires the faithful and earnest prayer support of the entire praying church constituency. The Executive Committee serves as a steering committee of the Council. It is our desire to so direct the activities of the Council and General Conference that the church may be loyal to her living Lord.

May the Lord grant wisdom and understanding and give grace unto all who have an active responsibility in General Conference and its organizations to keep the church's witness pure to the world and free from schisms.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

H. Ernest Bennett, Treasurer

During the past year a number of significant developments have taken place in the program of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. For some of these developments we have been very thankful and for others we have considerable concern. We are particularly thankful for the number of new fields into which the Board has planned to enter. We trust the Lord will continue to guide and direct, to open doors, to supply workers and funds, and to make possible a realization of the expanding vision and program. We regret, however, that during the past year there have been increasing problems in a number of mission fields. As is already known, China has become a closed door. Within the past six months the situation in Argentina has so developed that the status of our foreign mission personnel is uncertain. Recent developments in India indicate that it may be more difficult in the future to send foreign missionaries to that country. The developing India program seems to confirm action which the Mission Board took at its last annual meeting in completely unifying the church and mission in India so that the work can be carried on by Indian leadership. We are thankful for this development and we are glad to report that this program is progressing satisfactorily.

In the fields of Puerto Rico and Japan the mission work has continued to develop both rapidly and satisfactorily. On the Puerto Rico field in particular, considerable expansion has taken place in the area of developing small indigenous congregations. The future program looks forward to further integration of the mission and service program, development of radio work, and increasing the number of mission outposts. Puerto Rico has also been approved as a unit for alternative service men. The program in Japan is still in its beginning stages and most of the new workers are yet in language school. Two mission stations have been established and others will be begun as the workers complete their preliminary work in language study. Japan continues to give evidence of being anxious to receive Christian missionaries.

Foreign Mission Personnel

The following missionaries were appointed to foreign fields at the Annual Meeting held at Kalona, Iowa, this past June:

Don and Barbara Reber sailed to Japan in August.

Mary Ann Hostetler and Ruth Bean arrived in Japan on November 6.

Quintus and Miriam Leatherman arrived in London in August.

Mahlon and Hilda Stoltzfus went to Alaska in August.

Doris Snyder arrived in Puerto Rico in July.

Paul and Lois Lauver plan to return to Puerto Rico in January, 1953.

Don and Dorothy McCammon have a sailing date for Japan on December 20.

James and Anna Martin, appointed to Latin America, left for language school in Costa Rica in August.

Clyde and Anna Mosemann, appointed to Latin America, plan to leave for language school in Costa Rica on December 28.

Ruby Hostetler, M.R.C. appointee to India, sailed on November 22.

As indicated, these workers have now gone to the field or have plans of going in the near future.

New Foreign Fields

A number of new foreign mission fields are being developed. It is hoped that in the near future workers can be sent to Uruguay. Brother and Sister James Martin are now in language study in Costa Rica and Brother and Sister Clyde Mosemann will arrive in Costa Rica for the same purpose by the end of December of this year. Should present plans be completed, both of these brethren will likely enter the South American mission field, perhaps Uruguay, within the next year.

The country of Brazil seems to offer a wide open door for mission work. It is anticipated that missionaries will be sent to this field as soon as they are available. For this particular field a well qualified and mature missionary couple will be needed. We trust the Lord will lay this need on the heart of those who are being called to serve in this area.

Since the annual Board meeting in June, Brother and Sister Quintus Leatherman and family have been sent to England and have now opened the London Center. Recent information from London indicates that the Center already is beginning to serve a purpose and has attracted a number of students in London to inquire regarding the doctrines and faith of the Mennonite Church.

Mission work on the European continent appears to be developing satisfactorily. David Shank in Belgium has now opened a Children's Home as a base from which to work. Need for some type of service program seemed to be evident and this type of institution appeared to be most needed and easily developed. Orley Swartzentruber is now developing a mission center in Paris, France. This development grew out of the service which was rendered during the war to French children, a good many of which came from the Paris suburbs. With the help of national workers it is anticipated that the work in France should make considerable progress during the next year.

The most recent foreign mission development is to begin active mission work among Jewish people in Israel. The first missionary couple is now under consideration and will likely go to Palestine within the coming year.

Home Missions

The major development in city mission work has been in the work among Negroes. Through the leadership of James Lark, the proposed Bethel Mennonite Church in Chicago has been approved and architectural plans are now being completed in anticipation of beginning construction of the Bethel Mennonite Church in the spring of 1953. Considerable financial resources will be required for this project and, subject to receiving the necessary contributions, this mission work should proceed without too much delay.

The Urban Evangelism Committee has been very active in planning the future program of city mission work. Serious consideration is now being given to expanding work in the area of rescue missions. Considerable conviction seems to be evident among our brotherhood for a mission of this type under the direction of the General Mission Board.

With the aid of voluntary service and alternative service personnel, considerable impetus is also being given to the work in Mathis, Texas, and Culp, Arkansas. Increased opportunities are becoming evident in both of these fields and may point the way to similar projects which can be made an active type of mission program.

Self-Supporting Missionaries

The first missionaries to be sponsored by the General Board who have entered their work on a self-supporting basis left for their field of service this fall. They are Brother and Sister Mahlon Stoltzfus who have gone to Alaska to teach in the school system but who hope to make this a mission effort. These missionaries support themselves through their teaching program and are attempting to carry on Sunday-school work, personal evangelism, and to serve as Mission Board representatives in seeking out further mission opportunities in Alaska.

Charitable Institutions

The charitable institutions of the Mission Board have continued to improve their facilities and services. Under the direction of the Child Welfare Committee the two children's homes and Mennonite Youth Village have been working towards making their services more effective in meeting the needs of the children who need care. The Mennonite Youth Village program has been expanded through the addition of a clinic. The assistance of the Women's Sewing Circle in helping to supply the equipment for this clinic was much appreciated.

In line with action taken at the last annual meeting of the Board, the Froh Brothers Homestead is now being developed. This is a fairly large institutional building located in southern Michigan which is being purchased on a long term basis and which is to become a home for the aged. Developments to date indicate that the Froh Brothers Homestead is very well situated and will offer fine facilities for an institution of this type. It will particularly serve the Indiana-Michigan area of the church.

Publicity

Steps have now been taken to further unify and improve the publicity work of the Mission Board. Levi C. Hartzler has been appointed as Secretary of Publicity and Church Relations. Office facilities have been expanded to make room for this department at the Elkhart headquarters. It is anticipated that through this new arrangement more complete and better organized information regarding program and work of the Board can be given to the constituency.

Finances

Continued support received from congregations and individuals for the mission work of the church has been much appreciated. In general, adequate support has been received for the various mission areas. However, there seems to be a continuing drop in total contributions during this past year and it is hoped that this trend will change in the near future or else it may be impossible to finance the present program or for the plans to enter new fields to be realized. The two areas of mission work which seem to lack support at the present time are city missions and the India mission field.

During the coming year a number of major projects are under way which will need considerable financial support. These are the following: Chicago

Bethel Church Building, Froh Brothers Homestead (home for the aged), Puerto Rico Hospital, and Belgium Children's Home. All of these projects will require considerable funds for building purposes but will not require extensive operating funds after they are completed.

The Future

Present world conditions seem to indicate that mission work in the future may become more difficult. This is particularly true in a number of areas such as some South American countries, India, and possibly some Far Eastern countries which are coming under the influence of communism. We do not know how long the doors may be open in other countries. This seems to indicate that we need to work with a sense of urgency in taking the Gospel to those countries in which the door is yet open. We trust that the brotherhood will continue to support the mission effort of the church through prayers, financial support, and personnel. As we look ahead to the future we sincerely seek the Lord's guidance that the mission work of the church may be effective in bringing souls into the kingdom of God.

Mennonite Relief Committee

Levi C. Hartzler, Secretary

The Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities has given its Relief Committee responsibility in the areas of relief, refugee rehabilitation, voluntary service, I-W services, and related services. The program of the Relief Committee is governed by the general policies of the Board and comes up for review at the annual meeting of the Board.

As the relief and service agency of the Mennonite Church, MRC co-operates in the all-Mennonite relief and service program of the Mennonite Central Committee, Akron, Pa., which represents all Mennonite groups. This co-operation includes monthly budgets for relief and refugee aid and support of Pax men and voluntary service personnel. It also includes publicity and collection of funds for building of mental hospitals and other special relief and service needs as they arise.

Relief

MRC carries an emergency relief fund and stands ready to give relief aid in any area where missionaries are serving under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, both at home and abroad. During 1952 funds were sent to Japan for relief following an earthquake in our mission area and funds were received and dispersed for tornado relief in this country.

As of Jan. 1, 1953, the MRC budget for MCC relief was $4,000 per month and for refugee rehabilitation, $2,000 per month. These budgets are reviewed semiannually and adjusted according to giving and needs. These funds are received through the monthly relief and service offerings in our congregations. Funds for special relief and refugee projects are also received and forwarded. The present emergency relief needs requiring particular attention are Korea and Jordan. Relief funds are also needed for Europe, Java, Formosa, Japan, and Mennonite refugees in South America.

Voluntary Service—Long Term

The year 1952 was a difficult one for voluntary service because of the uncertain draft situation during the first part of the year and the slowness with which drafting started during the last part of the year. While the men were waiting for the draft situation to clear during the first half of the year, young women were also slow in volunteering. However, ninety young people were serving in the MRC voluntary service program at the end of 1952. The La Junta hospital unit and the La Plata Mennonite Project in Puerto Rico attracted most of the volunteers.

India: A couple is serving the American Mennonite Mission in India as MRC appointees. The man is a mechanic and builder. He moves around from one station to the other as needs require. MRC has also appointed a teacher to the Kodaikanal School in South India on a seconded basis.

Puerto Rico: The main problems regarding the service program in Puerto Rico at this writing are the new hospital building and an enlargement of the farm program. About thirty more acres of land with some buildings are available and would add to the effectiveness of the agriculture services to the local Puerto Rican people. The Mission Board has first option on the purchase of this property. Architects drawings for the new hospital building have already been submitted. The hospital is to be located in Aibonito. H. Ernest Bennett, treasurer of the Board, was commissioned by MRC to go to Puerto Rico in December, 1952, to help make decisions on the two problems. The Board Executive Committee asked the Board secretary, J. D. Graber, to accompany Ernest Bennett to discuss the total Puerto Rico program with our missionaries and service workers before making a final decision on either matter.

The number of workers in La Plata Project has continued at about thirty during the year. Prospects for enlarging the unit to take in more I-W men from the States has not yet materialized. Several Puerto Rican Mennonite boys have been assigned to the Project by their local boards for their I-W service. One of our two doctors completed his term in August and returned home. Another doctor went down during January 1953 to begin service as a I-W assignee. We would like to find a doctor who would like to serve on a permanent basis in the hospital. Other services at La Plata in addition to medical and agricultural include sanitation, recreational, educational, and industrial projects.

Kansas City Hospital Unit: This unit was hit hard by lack of volunteers. At one time during the year only two young people were working in the hospital. One of the serious problems was that of leadership. I-W men are now being assigned to this unit and we anticipate more women volunteers also. Members in the unit assist in the mission program of the Kansas City Gospel Center in addition to serving the 500-bed General Hospital.

La Junta Hospital Unit: Quite a few members of this unit serve as nurse aides and orderlies. Each June 1 a new nurse aide class comes into the hospital. This means a larger turnover at that time. However many unit members also serve in other departments of the hospital: maintenance, kitchen, laundry, housekeeping, and clerical. This service makes possible more hospital care for the needy of the community since the hospital credits savings in wages to a donated services fund which is used to pay hospital care for the poor. Unit members participate in the community activities of the hospital staff and the local Mennonite churches. This unit is approved for I-O men.

Indian Migrant Unit: During the year this unit was reduced in size from seven to four. Brother and Sister Stanley Weaver continued for a second year as director and matron. The unit continued its medical, educational, and religious program among the Navajo Indian migrant farm laborers around Grants, N.M., during the summer and Phoenix, Ariz., during the winter. The Mission Board is looking for a permanent location for mission work among the Navajo Indians as a result of the contacts made by the service unit.

Mathis, Tex.: A service program among Spanish-speaking Americans began in the Mathis area in connection with our mission program during January, 1952. This included setting up recreational and craft facilities for the children and a kindergarten to teach English to preschool children. This work also suffered for lack of personnel during the year. The projected medical program has not developed for want of a nurse. Plans are now on foot to enlarge this unit since it has been approved for the use of I-O men.

Church Institutions: MRC has been giving assistance to some of our institutions in securing personnel, usually on a voluntary service basis but also on a regular staff basis. Voluntary service workers served on a longer term basis during 1952 at the Mennonite Publishing House; the Braeside Home, Ontario; the West Liberty Children's Home, Ohio; the Mennonite Children's Home, Kansas City; the Mennonite Home for the Aged, Eureka, Ill.; and the hospital at Greensburg, Kans.

City Missions: Since regular personnel for city missions is difficult to get at the present time, the voluntary service program has been supplying personnel for certain stations. These persons assist in the service side of missions and then participate in the evangelistic efforts as needed. Help is needed particularly for children's activities during the week and for Bible teachers to teach released time Bible classes during the week. Longer term workers served at Saginaw, Mich., and Cleveland, Ohio, during 1952.

Builders' Unit: A builders' unit served in Chicago on the Mexican Mennonite Mission building, at the Elkhart headquarters, and at Mennonite Youth Village during 1952. Building projects are always available for men who desire this type of service.

Elkhart Headquarters: The enlargement of the office staff has increased service needs in the headquarters building. Several young women have been serving as assistants to the hostess in taking care of cleaning the offices and other needed house work. Since MRC has taken over the Board-owned house at 1525 Prairie St., Elkhart, for a voluntary service center, a couple has been secured to serve as host and hostess there. VS workers who come to Elkhart for orientation live in the center and make that their recreational headquarters. It also serves as a guest house for both mission and service personnel passing through Elkhart.

Orientation School: The practice of requiring all voluntary service appointees to come to Elkhart for a period of orientation has been a real help to the program. Volunteers are instructed in the total program of the Mission Board and MRC and participate in the following courses of study: Let God Speak (Bible study), Our Heritage of Faith, Group Living, and Living the Peace Testimony. Individual interviews further prepare each worker for his assignment. Each school continues for a week to ten days.

Voluntary Service—Summer

For the last three summers the number of volunteers and units has remained nearly the same. The summer service Echoes gives reports of the work done by each unit with the names of those serving in the units. During the summer of 1952, 124 young people served in 28 units for a period of four to eight weeks. In addition 39 young people from the MRC constituency were supported in the MCC summer service program. The 28 MRC units were divided as follows: 11 city mission; 7 rural mission; 5 child welfare, children's homes and camps; and one each in Homes for the Aged, MYF youth team, migrant unit, student study group, and Mennonite Publishing House.

I-W Services

The draft program has definitely affected the work of MRC. The first task was to get information on all Mennonite institutions and voluntary service projects eligible for the use of I-O men to the Mennonite Central Committee for presentation to National Selective Service. The next job was to get information on all young men eligible for the draft so that assistance could be given them the moment the draft started.

MRC serves the boys by helping them find jobs after they have received their I-O classification. This includes voluntary service and paid service. We have already discussed the voluntary service program, but a large number of young men are taking jobs in approved institutions and working for wages. The task of the church in such cases is to help find housing and to provide recreational, educational, and religious activities in those centers where our boys are congregating. This MRC has begun to do. Housing has been provided in East Lansing, Mich.; Plymouth, Mich.; Indianapolis, Ind., and Gary, Ind. Contacts have been made with church leaders in the various conference districts and at the present time MRC area I-W administrators are serving in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana-Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri, and plans are under way for further assistance in other conference districts. These area I-W administrators work with the MRC staff in assisting I-O boys from their area to find jobs and in administering services to boys working in their area. The area administrators co-operate with the MCC Peace Section counseling committees and with the pastoral committees provided by the conference districts to provide pastoral care for the men.

In the I-W program the Mennonite Central Committee makes all national government contacts and writes appointment letters to draft boards for all boys in Mennonite institutions or voluntary service projects. MRC then works with the boys on the local level through its area administrators and in co-operation with the local pastors and the Peace Section counseling committee. Indiana State Selective Service has approved the use of two I-O men in the Relief and service office at Elkhart.

Finances

The increasing responsibility in the I-W services area increases staff costs for both MRC and MCC. However, this increased administration gives aid and encouragement to the young men who are being drafted. Funds will continue to be needed for this alternate service program. They are now being taken from the monthly relief and service offerings from our congregations.

Congregations who do not take a relief and service offering are not contributing to relief, refugee aid, voluntary service, or I-W services unless they send in funds designated for one or more of these causes. The general relief and service funds are used to take care of all of the above needs except where designated funds take care of the total cost of one particular service or project.

During the past year we have received enough funds to take care of the program fairly well. We could have used more funds for relief since the MCC was required to cut down some of its planned program for want of funds. The draft will require increased giving in 1953. We believe that our churches want the above program to continue and will be willing to support it.

Conclusion

Our goal in MRC is to provide service opportunities with an evengelistic emphasis for all those who desire to serve, to assist I-O men in finding jobs acceptable with Selective Service where they can give a consistent Christian witness to their faith, to be sensitive to relief and service needs in our world, and to be good stewards of the relief and service funds sent to us for distribution.

Peace Problems Committee

Ford Berg

Part or all members of the Peace Problems Committee met at different times during the year to discuss the continued concerns of new developments in the draft law, peace literature, and related subjects. The committee is assigned the responsibility of supervising and maintaining an adequate program on peace information, handling of conscientious objector problems, and continuing an emphasis on the nonresistant way of life.

The personnel of the committee for the past year has been: Harold S. Bender, C. L. Graber, John L. Stauffer, Amos S. Horst, John E. Lapp, John A. Hostetler, Ford Berg, Paul T. Guengerich, John H. Hess, J. B. Martin, Emerson L. McDowell, and Milo D. Stutzman, the latter four representing the Canadian Mennonite Church.

The Draft Law

Following the enactment of the Universal Military Training and Service Act which became effective on June 19, 1951, there was about a year's delay in drafting conscientious objectors. During this past year, some states were able to set up their programs to handle CO's. This increased the concerns of the committee and with the co-operation and leadership of the Peace Section of the Mennonite Central Committee an active and planned program was inaugurated. Details of the working plan are covered by Levi C. Hartzler in a report of the work of the Relief and Service area.

Because of the growing amount of work in counseling and looking after details on matters of draft and related items, plans are to locate possibly a full-time man to work in this field.

Harold S. Bender continues as Peace Problems Committee representative on the Mennonite Central Committee Peace Section.

Cataloging of Peace Literature

All available peace literature within our constituency is to be catalogued. It is felt that libraries and church workers should know what literature is available and where it is. This will also help to supply those areas which are weak.

Representative at World Conference

Chairman Harold S. Bender served as the Peace Problems Committee's delegate at the Mennonite World Conference in Basel in August. He has reported on the peace emphasis of the conference. There is need in Europe for a comparable service to conscientious objectors as that given in United States by the National Service Board for Religious Objectors in Washington, D.C.

Commission to Emphasize Peace

The Peace Problems Committee is working closely with the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work in the latter's emphasis this year on nonresistance. John E. Lapp and John A. Hostetler, members of the Peace Problems Committee, are working with the Commission in sponsoring peace meetings over the July 4 week end. A thirteen-lesson peace Bible studies booklet for young people is being prepared by the Commission for substitution during the fourth quarter of 1953 and for others interested.

Peace Essay Contest

The second annual peace essay contest in Mennonite high schools was completed during 1952. Winners this year were: Mary Ellen Hershberger, Iowa Mennonite School; Alice Marie Metzler, E.M.C.; Margaret Jutzi, Rockway Mennonite School; and Mary Miller, Plainview Amish Mennonite Christian Day School. Another contest is planned for 1953.

Peace Literature

The translation of Guy F. Hershberger's War, Peace, and Nonresistance into the Spanish and German languages has not been completed due to printing, distribution, and other uncertainties. Final completion dates are at this time unknown. A revised edition of this work is now in the hands of the publishers to be published perhaps about mid 1953.

Paul M. Miller, of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary, has written a paper, "Can a Nonresistant Christian Be an Effective Evangelist in Wartime?" This is to be printed and mailed free to all ordained men, including Conservative Amish brethren. Two thousand are to be printed, with the remainder of the stock to be at Scottdale for distribution to those interested.

The manuscript on heroes of nonresistance, for children, and entitled Coals of Fire, is now in process of publication.

Ford Berg continues as the one responsible to collect, edit, and supply material for the monthly installment "Peace and War" which appears in the Gospel Herald regularly.

A new book, Answer to War, by Millard C. Lind, appeared under the sponsorship of the Peace Problems Committee in January, 1952. 1,377 copies were sold during the year. It was prepared especially for young people, and serves well as a study course.

The distribution of the new paper Declaration of Christian Faith and Commitment, which succeeded the Turner, Oregon, statement, continues to move into the churches at a rapid pace. About 15,000 were distributed during 1952.

Mennonite Publication Board

John C. Wenger, Former President

*Annual Meeting

The 1952 annual meeting of the Mennonite Publication Board was held February 20, 21, 1952, at the Wayland, Iowa, Mennonite Church, the congregation where the former president of the Board, Simon Gingerich, serves as bishop. Attendance and interest seemed good. One of the most valuable aspects of the Board meeting was the series of three-minute messages given to the Board by its individual members. These were later mimeographed so that they could be re-read and studied.

Besides routine business there were two major items of business, both the result of solid work by special committees. The first of these was a cluster of actions that came out of a study of administration, prompted originally by the recommendation of the auditors to consolidate the books of the Board and House treasurers, and have only one treasurer hereafter. Out of the study of the committee came a number of decisions by the annual meeting which we trust will result in increased simplicity of organization and in better efficiency. It was decided to create the office of House Administrator, to reduce the unduly heavy burden which the Publishing Agent had been carrying. Thus the line of responsibility now runs from the church to the Board, and from the Board down through its Executive Committee, the Publishing Agent and the House Administrator in turn, where it fans out to five officers in charge of the following divisions: finance, editorial, production, sales, and personnel. Millard C. Lind is chairman of the Editorial Committee that heads up the Editorial Division, H. Ralph Hernley is Production Manager, and Paul W. Shank is in charge of Sales and Advertising. The other two offices are momentarily vacant; no one has as yet been located to serve as Personnel Manager, and Monroe B. Wyse after eight faithful years as House treasurer has transferred to Eastern Mennonite College where he is now controller. The committee which did the work relating to House administration was composed of M. R. Good, Nelson E. Kauffman, Carl Kreider, A. J. Metzler, and Harold Zehr, Chairman.

The second major matter which came before the annual meeting of the Board was presented by the Periodical Study Committee, the personnel of which was Nelson E. Kauffman, Chairman, Paul Erb, Roy S. Koch, John L. Stauffer and Ellrose D. Zook. This committee recommended the creation of a new magazine for family worship, to be published quarterly; the recommendation was adopted. The committee also recommended that the Christian Monitor and The Mennonite Community be both discontinued, and in their place one new monthly be created, conserving the values of both, and being further enriched. After much thought and consideration the Board also adopted this recommendation. Publication date is also set for January, 1954. The new editor is to be Millard C. Lind, writer of the Herald Adult Bible Studies. The name of the new magazine will be Christian Living.

One of the results of consolidating the books of the House and Board treasurers was the creation of a new office on the Executive Committee: Financial Agent. The former treasurer of the Board, who had given thirteen years of unselfish service, Lewis S. Martin, resigned to clear the way for the introduction of the new plan. Marcus Clemens was then elected as Financial Agent.

Committee Personnel

During 1952 the following served as members of the Executive Committee: J. C. Wenger, President; Harold Bauman, Vice-President; Harold Zehr, Secretary; Marcus Clemens, Financial Agent; and E. C. Bender, fifth member. The Executive Committee appointed the following Publishing Committee which the Board approved: Paul Erb, Howard Charles, John L. Horst, John E. Lapp, and Roy D. Roth. A. J. Metzler continues to serve as Publishing Agent (formerly called General Manager), as he has done since 1935; and Ellrose D. Zook has entered upon his new duties as House Administrator. In this capacity Brother Zook takes care of many detailed matters which now need not be taken to the Publishing Agent, while he and the Publishing Agent counsel together on major matters that affect House and Board policy. The Curriculum Committee represents and serves both the Commission for Christian Education and the Publishing House. C. F. Yake and Millard C. Lind represent the House on the Curriculum Committee, and Paul Mininger, Paul Lederach and John R. Mumaw represent the Commission.

Miscellaneous

Over a period of years the auditors have rendered a substantial service to Mennonite Publication Board, not only by checking on bookkeeping procedures, but also by making constructive suggestions for the improvement of the financial set-up of Board and House. The House and Board were sorry to lose the excellent services of Grant M. Stoltzfus as editor of The Mennonite Community; Brother Stoltzfus is at present continuing his education. It is hoped that it will not be many years until he returns to us to make a still richer contribution to the cause of Christian literature. Don Kreider, a former auditor, served during 1952 as Internal Auditor, an office created by the 1952 Board meeting. It is his responsibility to keep an eye on the financial state of the Board and to make an annual report to the Board.

Many other decisions were made by the 1952 Board meeting. It was decided that the traveling expenses for conference representatives be paid in excess of $50.00 if they come from conferences having less than 2,000 members. The Executive Committee is recommending to the next annual meeting that this be made a matter of policy. It was also decided to begin the next Board meeting sessions with a period of intercessory prayer. One of the matters that will need to be considered soon is the time and manner of celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the Board and/or House.

It has been customary to occasionally do some major alteration and repairs to each of the branch book stores. In 1952 the work was done at Goshen. This property is now owned by the Board and a substantial renovation was undertaken in that portion of the building currently being utilized for store purposes. The results have been highly satisfactory.

Members of the church are frequently asked where the headquarters of the church are. In a technical sense, the Brotherhood probably has no official central office. However, during 1952 the offices of Mennonite General Conference were placed at the Publishing House. The House and Board are happy to render this service to the General Conference.

Anyone who has been living on a modest allowance in recent years knows how high the cost of living is currently. Furthermore spiraling prices in paper and other printers' supplies affects the budget of the House. This creates a double problem: how to pay adequate allowances to House employees, and how to keep a million dollar business sound financially. For this reason the House is not giving many cash donations in recent years, except to such causes as the Mennonite Research Foundation which is serving all our boards, and the Mennonite Central Committee for its foreign literature program. Several committees are also working at the problem of how to take better care of our employees, both while they are workers and after they retire. A committee consisting of E. C. Bender, H. Ralph Hernley, J. L. Horst, Lowell Hershberger, and A. J. Metzler is working on the matter of wages, while another committee, Marcus Clemens, H. Ralph Hernley, Don Kreider, and A. J. Metzler, is studying the matter of supplementary allowances over and beyond Social Security. Furthermore, a firm which specializes in studying administration, and increasing efficiency, Methods Engineering Council of Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania, has been employed to make a survey of the House to seek to find possible points for improvement.

As the constituency, the Board, and the House pray and labor together, may we all keep in mind the purposes of the Board: "To produce, publish and distribute wholesome and Scripturally sound literature which shall contribute to the spread of the Gospel for the salvation of souls and the building up of Christian character; . . . and to carry on any other activities through which it can most effectively serve the constituency, advance the Cause of Christ, and promote Scriptural unity in the church." Goshen, Ind.

Mennonite Board of Education

J. F. Kanagy, Secretary

The Mennonite Board of Education was organized in 1905 and took over the operation of Goshen College from the Elkhart Institute Association early in 1906. Since that time the work of the Board has increased until today it is not only responsible for the operation of two colleges and a nursing school but also gives counsel to the elementary and high schools throughout the Mennonite Church. The Board was organized to foster and safeguard through Christian education the cause of Christ according to the faith and practice of the Mennonite Church.

According to the constitution the purpose of the Mennonite Board of Education is stated as follows: (1) to promote throughout the Mennonite Church the interests of Christian education and to establish, support, and control church schools where our young people may secure an education designed to develop Christian faith and loyalty to the Mennonite Church, build Christian character, and train efficient servants of God and man, such as missionaries, teachers, nurses, and other Christian community builders. (2) The Board shall be responsible for the general guidance and co-ordination of the school program of the church.

The membership of the Board is made up of a representative from each conference which is eligible for membership in Mennonite General Conference, four members from Mennonite General Conference, three members at large, not more than three additional members at large and the president and two alumni from each college which is under control of the Board. Ex-officio members are members by virtue of their office.

Through the General Educational Council the Board has given assistance to a number of the elementary and secondary schools throughout the Church. The Educational Agent, C. F. Yake, has directed many of the activities of this council. The publication of The Christian School has been transferred to the Mennonite Publishing House. The Church School Day Bulletin was published and used in connection with the observance of Church School Day. The Standards for Elementary and Secondary Schools were prepared and distributed to the schools. Report cards for the grades 1-3 and 4-8 were prepared and published by the Mennonite Publishing House and are being used by a number of schools. The Mennonite Teachers' Association has been organized and the Teachers' Registry has been brought up to date.

The Conrad Grebel Lectureship Committee have completed their first lectures. These were prepared by Paul Mininger on "Foundations of Christian Education" and were delivered first at Eastern Mennonite College, November 20-22. Milo Kauffman is preparing the lectures for 1953 on the subject of "Stewardship."

During the year the J. D. Charles Hall of Science and Arts at Hesston and the Alumni Dining Hall in Westlawn at Goshen were dedicated. Both of these buildings fill a much needed place on their respective campuses. Planning committees continue to work on plans for church buildings at both Hesston and Goshen.

The Board approved the construction of a seminary building at Goshen College at its annual meeting on October 18-20, 1951. Plans are progressing for this building but no construction has been started. At its annual meeting held at the Beech Church, Louisville, Ohio, on Oct. 16, 1952, the Board approved the Executive Committee recommendation for the construction of a nurses' dormitory and educational building. The Nurses' Dormitory and Educational Building Planning Committee is preparing plans for this building and it is hoped that construction can be started by the summer of 1953.

During the year the Goshen College Biblical Seminary developed a statement on "Evangelism" which was later adopted by the entire faculty, as a means of strengthening the spirit and practice of evangelism in the College. Goshen College co-operated with the Mission Board in sponsoring a conference on "Lay Evangelism." This conference was well attended.

Hesston College and Bible School sponsored a Rural Life Conference during the year which was much appreciated by laymen and ministers who attended. Definite efforts were made at Hesston during the year to present to the students the Biblical teachings on nonconformity.

The spiritual life of the students on the campus of each school is of deep concern of the Board. Efforts are made to strengthen the faculty in this respect. All new faculty members are examined before being placed on the faculty to make sure that they are Biblically sound. The religious life of the student is strengthened by religious counselors who are trained to help young people in their religious problems. The religious life is also strengthened by revival meetings, Christian Life Conferences, missionary conferences, missionary speakers, chapel services and other special meetings.

The interest in the nurses' training program of the schools at Goshen and La Junta has been good. The prenursing enrollment is low at Hesston this year but the freshman class enrollment at La Junta is high with good enrollment in prenursing courses at Goshen. Both nursing schools have received additional accreditment during the past year.

The enrollment for the 1951-52 school year in our colleges is good. The anticipated drop in enrollment of men students due to Selective Service was not as great as expected. The percentage of Mennonite students has been increasing slightly.

The Board of Education who is responsible for the educational program of the church needs and asks the support and prayers of the church and the homes in carrying out its responsibilities. Biglerville, Pa.

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education

Paul M. Lederach, Field Secretary

The Mennonite Commission for Christian Education studies the field of Christian education in the Sunday school, weekday Bible school, summer Bible school, young people's institute and kindred organizations and activity of the church. The Commission seeks to promote their better service. In addition it seeks to correlate its work with local and regional agencies of the church serving in the same fields, and always stands ready to assist and serve these agencies as needed or requested.

The Commission functions among our church teaching activities in at least ten ways: (1) It studies the teaching needs of the church. (2) It attempts to coordinate the teaching efforts of the church through counsel and research. (3) It promotes the teaching program of the church through guidance, information, programs, and publicity materials. (4) It assists in the production of teaching materials. It blueprints curriculum materials published by the publishing agency of the church. (5) It helps the church to face and to attempt solutions of teaching problems in both general and local situations. (6) It gives special attention to problems confronting the youth of the church and seeks to investigate and suggest plans of action which will conserve the energies of youth for Christ and for the church. (7) It relates the teaching program of the church to the home. The Commission maintains that the home is central in Christian education and therefore offers help in building Christian homes and in deepening the spiritual life of our homes. (8) It is concerned with the development of better worship in our congregations. Special attention is given to congregational singing. (9) It collects and reports statistics concerning the teaching work of the church. (10) It examines the efficiency of the teaching agencies of the church through an examination of teaching methods, and through a comparison of records from year to year.

The work of the Commission is carried on through an Executive Committee, Curriculum Committee, and the divisional secretaries. The Executive Committee is composed of the chairman, vice-chairman, secretary-treasurer, and field secretary. The field secretary co-ordinates the efforts of the Commission. He collaborates with the divisional secretaries and represents the Commission to the churches.

The Curriculum Committee consists of five members: Two appointed by the Publication Board; two appointed by the Commission; and the Field Secretary. This Committee is responsible for the planning of curriculum materials. It aims to maintain a sound theological emphasis in all materials along with the best in pedagogical principles and procedures.

At the present time there are ten divisional secretaries: Secretary of Sunday Schools, Secretary of Young People's Bible Meetings, Secretary of Christian Workers' Training, Secretary of Summer Bible Schools, Secretary of Young People's Activities, Secretary of Missionary Education, Secretary of Weekday Bible Schools, Secretary of Home Interests, Secretary of Junior Activities, and Secretary of Church Music. In the paragraphs that follow is a brief review of the work in each of these areas.

Sunday School

The Sunday school continues as the major teaching agency of the church. The secretary in this area compiles extensive statistics covering the Sunday schools of the church (these are found elsewhere in this volume). These statistics should be examined and compared with previous years.

A notable project in this area during 1952 was the sponsoring of the Fourth Church-wide Sunday School Convention at Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana, during August, 1952. This convention enabled Sunday-school workers from all over the church to share experiences, to face mutual problems, to discover new techniques, and to renew consecration to greater Sunday-school endeavor. This convention was high in evangelistic fervor as it was conducted in conjunction with the Brunk Brothers' Revival.

Young People's Bible Meetings

This secretary chairs the committee to plan outlines for the Program Builder. He attempts to guide and promote our Sunday evening educational program. This year the secretary has revised the Young People's Bible Meeting Record Book. This will be reprinted and made available to all of our young people's Bible meeting groups. It should facilitate the gathering of accurate statistics throughout the church.

Christian Workers' Training

This area of work is being promoted with new energy. During this year the present Christian Workers' Training Course is being enlarged and brought up to date. New courses and textbooks are being added. A new manual describing the whole curriculum will be made available in early spring. It will contain instructions for conducting Christian Workers' Training courses, and will outline the courses leading up to the granting of diplomas by the Commission.

Summer Bible School

The secretary in this area has also served as editor of the Herald Summer Bible School Series. Under his hand and the blessing of the Lord the summer Bible school has risen to new heights of effectiveness as an agency of Christian education. New schools have been founded, enrollment increased, and effective promotional brochures have been prepared. At the present time our summer Bible school materials are enjoying a circulation far beyond the circle of our own constituency. It should be added that the present summer Bible school curriculum is being revised to make it an even more effective instrument of Christian education.

Young People's Activities

Through the work of the Commission in this area, Mennonite Youth Fellowship was conceived and organized, and is now enjoying wide acceptance throughout the church. This secretary co-ordinates youth activities. He is interested in literaries, institutes, camps, youth conferences, and voluntary service. Through the work of this division it is hoped that young people will be assisted in finding themselves spiritually, in finding suitable outlets for Christian service, in training for leadership in the church, and in developing strong conviction and wholesome attitudes.

Missionary Education

The present secretary is also the director of the newly created office of Publicity and Church Relations of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, Elkhart, Indiana. It is hoped that through this mutually agreeable relationship the Commission can help capture the imagination and vision of the members of the church for missions. The Church must become more missionary minded, and through this area of work, Missionary Day, mission projects, study of mission fields, and actual missionary recruitment will become more effective than ever before.

Weekday Bible Schools

The Lancaster Conference has done a great deal of pioneering work in this area. It has also prepared courses of study which are being used effectively in many congregations in the East. The Curriculum Committee is pressing forward in the work of developing outlines for a weekday Bible school curriculum. In the meantime, this secretary urges each congregation to provide graded instruction for children during each week, preferably in conjunction with the midweek meetings.

Home Interests

A new secretary has been appointed in this area during the past year. The theme, "Building Christian Homes" was the 1951-52 theme of the Commission. To promote this, the Assistant Secretary of Home Interests supervised the preparation of the Home Series Booklets; a group of six booklets covering problems from dating to parenthood. These booklets were distributed between May and October, 1952 and have received wide enthusiastic acceptance throughout the brotherhood.

Junior Activities

Both the secretary and the assistant secretary are busy preparing a manual for leaders of juniors. At this writing the manuscript is approximately three fourths completed.

Church Music

The Secretary of Church Music is responsible for developing more effective congregational singing. He is projecting special teams to travel from church to church to conduct music schools. In addition, he is preparing a manual to help local music leaders conduct training classes in congregations. This secretary also stands ready to provide guidance in selecting and purchasing music for special singing groups.

1953 Theme

The Commission theme for 1953 is "Christian Nonresistance." One of the outstanding projects is the sponsoring, in conjunction with the Peace Problems Committee of General Conference, of simultaneous peace conferences throughout the church over the week end of July 4 and 5. This is close to the Canadian Dominion Day, and Independence Day in the United States. In addition, each divisional secretary and each teaching agency of the church are making every effort to emphasize Christian nonresistance during the year. Scottdale, Pa.

Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

Ira D. Landis

The year 1952 has been one of challenge, extended missionary horizons, and blessings. The Conference summer Bible school enrollment of 22,294 surpassed the Sunday-school enrollment of 20,903, chiefly because of missions. The year closed with 29 city and 31 rural missions, some 30 full-time and 350 part-time workers gathering in the unsaved and edifying the saints.

The Board

As the Eastern Board functions under the revised Constitution, it is not only meeting bimonthly but is being geared for greater efficiency in an ever-enlarging program. We saw the passing of our beloved fellow-laborer, John H. Mellinger (age 93), the placing of a few on honorary membership, the appearing of younger members whose services will have a vital bearing on project and polity. The chairman was responsible for supplying missions with workers, for opening new work at the crucial moment, and to see that the organization was running smoothly. The vice-chairman is aiding the Voluntary Service program which due to Selective Service is becoming an extensive arm of the church. Elton Bomberger, who placed many of our youth locally and in mental hospitals in Connecticut and Pennsylvania, is to become a I-W mission worker in Nazareth, Ethiopia. O. O. Miller, Secretary, keeps in contact with home and foreign missions and serves as liaison officer between the Mennonite Central Committee and the Board. The Treasurer by monthly reminders keeps the constituency praying and giving for our far-flung enterprise. Not only does he invest, care for, and distribute all funds contributed but sees to the collection of all necessary voluntary offerings. A substantial contribution to war sufferers and relief was made again this year. About $335,000, more than $1,000 per day for every weekday, flows through the mission office at Intercourse. Furthermore, so far, every contributor has the satisfaction of knowing that 100 cents of every dollar goes to the cause for which given.

The Board as a whole is well informed, a bit younger, and can vote and speak intelligently on our various projects. The conference is supplying the necessary funds, personnel, prayers, and interest.

Abroad

In the Tanganyika field we have 33 supported missionaries and 28 missionary children, including 2 doctors, 3 nurses, and a builder. The Missionary Children's School has been completed and the 40-bed Shirati Hospital soon will be finished. The baptized membership is 864 with upwards of 600 catechumens. One more station, Ngruimi, has been added making 6 mission centers.

In Ethiopia, with 26 supported missionaries and short-time workers and 9 missionary children, it was deemed feasible to open the new Dire Dawa station. The 20-bed hospital at Deder served 3,324 outpatients, 12,500 outpatient calls, 34 major and 87 minor operations, 86 inpatients, 936 hospital patient days, and 45 maternity cases in ward. The Emperor's Blind School in the capital was opened and also the Dresser Bible at Nazareth.

Four missionaries have been appointed to enter Italian Somaliland in 1953. This Moslem stronghold has no Protestant missionaries. Under the leadership of Brother and Sister Wilbert Lind, they will go into Mogadiscio for orientation and language study. To world mission authorities the privilege of entry came as a great surprise and to us the added unexpectedness of entry free of customs.

The Fretzes and Millers are serving in Luxembourg; the first service was held in the Dudelange-Miller home this fall. In this Catholic stronghold, now militarized also. after worshiping with the Oesch Mennonite group for a year, they are now ready to give a more evangelical witness in this small country.

Honduras, in Central America, has 7 Spanish-speaking supported missionaries and 6 missionary children. The mission home was purchased and also the clinic, which is now operated with Sister Dora Taylor, R.N., in charge. The first church was built in Trujillo and the Tocoa area was opened.

For these foreign fields not only our own membership was drawn from but Wilbert Lind, Eldon and Jessie Hamilton from the Pacific Coast Conference, Fannie Miller and Caroline Plank from the Ohio and Eastern A.M. Conference, and Hedwig Nacht, R.N. from the Kehr congregation, Langnau Emmenthal, Switzerland.

J. Paul Graybill was deputized to visit all the Eastern hemisphere missions of the Board and did so this summer, a blessing both to the field and to the home church.

At Home

The LeRoy Stoltzfus district reports a 24 per cent membership increase in the Southland with a new church home near Atmore, Ala. Twenty new summer Bible schools in Alabama, Georgia, and Florida greatly extend our Southern witness. This work looks especially promising with continued prospecting work under the Itinerant Evangelism Committee, Twenty summer Bible schools in northern Pennsylvania have produced a permanent work at York's Corners in Allegany County, N.Y. New work was also opened in Kennett Square, North Lebanon, and Lisbon, Maryland. A Sunday school has been opened at Chester following lay witnessing and Bible school work.

An effective witness is Way distribution. Three Lancaster County groups have been distributing 5,000 Ways monthly in the Baltimore area. At Pulaski and McHenry streets, two of these groups are crystallizing their efforts in a religious center purchased by the Board. York's Corners, Lyndon, and North Lebanon have new quarters.

Missions at Harrisburg, Newlinville, Nickle Mines, Diamond Street and Oxford Circle, Philadelphia; and Fox St., and St. Ann's Avenue, New York City, have been supplied with ministers during the year. Experienced home missionaries are sent to the foreign field and experienced and new workers are taking the missions' leadership at home.

During the year Voluntary Service has claimed 218 for summer Bible schools, north and south, 10 for migrant camps, 4 for survey work, 8 for charitable institutions, and 4 for I-W. The Children's Visitation Program entered its second year with 300 children well distributed over the conference district. The Missionary Training Institute was again held with three dozen young Christian workers in attendance. The three-day inspiring annual meeting was an asset to both worker and Board.

Unique in our home mission program is a Christian day school in Ybor City, Tampa, Fla. The second story has been added to the building, giving sufficient room for eight grades with five teachers and more than one hundred pupils.

Conclusion

Youth through The Way distribution and city witnessing are giving missions a new impetus. In a recent mission ordination, the brethren were eighteen to twenty-two years of age. They have energy, a willingness to drive their autos for miles to witness and to give two years of voluntary service, regardless of when or where. The real challenge to Board and conference leadership is that they might be an asset to the work of the Lord and that these years of service may be stepping stones to future service.

We praise the Lord for resources, enthusiasm, and vision. As a small group we have many lights at many near and distant spots. May His guidance keep us who are at home united on the Rock with Pentecostal power, leaving our imprint on the most precious thing on earth—the souls of men. May God give us continued grace and wisdom for the days ahead! Bareville, Pa.

Mennonite Central Committee

Emma Schlichting, Director of Research and Publicity

I. Relief

At the end of 1952 90 relief workers were active in South America, the Middle East, the Far East, and Europe. Of the countries in which MCC is serving, Korea and Jordan are the most needy as far as food and clothing are concerned. In other countries the emphasis is on rehabilitation, resettlement, medical clinics, and spiritual ministry.

Far East

With the closing of the children's project in Hong Kong in July, 1952, the Far Eastern Area office was moved to Osaka, Japan. In addition to the area director five workers are serving there in community center activities, including Bible class and worship services.

In Korea the United Nations Military liberalized its control in August which makes it possible for voluntary agencies to operate there under limitations. In line with this new order the MCC is in the process of setting up a program. Two additional workers are planning to leave for Korea early in 1953; one worker has been there for over a year.

The programs in Formosa and Java continue to be largely medical. In Formosa the mobile clinic serves the tribes people in the interior, and the Hualien clinic serves those in that area. MCC workers also supervise four eye clinics, milk distributions, an orphanage, and a foundling home financed by other organizations. Besides operating the two clinics at Kajuapu and Margoredjo in Java the MCC supports the Mennonite theological school with part-time teachers and finances.

Middle East

Clothing shipments to the Arab Palestine refugees are made nearly every month. They have made little, if any, progress in their living conditions in the past four years. Services added during the year are medical assistance at Nablus and Bethlehem and welfare work in the Hebron area.

Europe

Changes in the program in Germany include the purchase of the Menno Heim in Berlin, the new center where Mennonite refugees en route to the West are assisted. The "Heim" also serves as an MCC center and as a church home for the Mennonites who live in Berlin. Since the beginning of the Heim, the Kreuzberg community center has been in charge of local people but continues to receive monthly MCC subsidy and the services of one worker. The MCC discontinued its service at the Heilbronn community center in October and turned over to the local Mennonites the building and equipment as agreed to earlier. The work at Espelkamp was transferred to the Conservative Amish Mennonite Conference in October, 1952. The material aid distribution center was transferred from Hamburg to Bremen.

The work in Bad Duerkheim and Frankfurt and the refugee counseling, voluntary service and spiritual ministry continue as before. MCC activities in France, Holland, Austria, and Switzerland also continue on the same pattern.

Material Aid

The goal of two hundred tons of clothing contributions was exceeded by seventeen tons. This is 31½ tons more than was contributed in 1951. Food receipts in 1952 exceeded the goal of 500 tons. For the amount of food and clothing sent to the various countries see the table.

II. Mennonite Aid

The work of this section has almost fully shifted from the problems of migration to those of resettlement. It has helped in the construction of homes in West Germany, with the aid of Pax men, for Mennonite families at Luebeck, Kiel, Backnang, Niederbieber, and the Pfalz. The Gronau refugee camp will be closed as soon as housing can be found for the remaining refugees. There is still a group of hard core Russian Mennonites in West Germany who are hoping for migration to Canada.

The Mennonite migration to Canada was relatively small this year—only 450 as compared to 3,500 in 1948, the peak year. About a hundred Mennonites came to the United States in 1952. It is unlikely that many immigrants will enter this country under the new Immigration Act that became effective December, 1952.

The leprosy program in Paraguay is progressing. The American Leprosy Missions provides three fifths of the cost of this project with MCC providing the other two fifths.

No new Mennonite immigrants from Europe entered South America during 1952.

The MCC maintains homes in Asuncion, Montevideo, Sao Paulo, and Buenos Aires which serve as centers for Mennonite activities in those cities.

For the third year the Mennonite Aid Section is sponsoring the Agricultural Trainee program. At present there are 18 European young people in the United States under MCC sponsorship.

III. Voluntary Service

Five orientation schools were conducted in 1952 at Akron for 59 volunteers. During this period one-year volunteers served in 23 projects. At present the MCC is sponsoring 12 units in 3 different areas of service—community services, mental hospitals, and delinquent and dependent children's work.

The number of persons entering summer service this year was 232. Twenty-one projects in Canada, Europe, and the United States afforded service opportunities in mental hospitals, children's homes and summer camps, community services and short-term Bible teaching assignments.

The constituency related projects, which were all construction projects, provided an excellent service opportunity for volunteers skilled in construction work. All costs such as transportation, room and board were borne by the conference group served.

IV. Mental Health

The MCC is now operating two small hospitals, one in the east and one in the west, and is constructing the third one in the midwest. Their main activity is still in the field of nursing and attendant services to the mentally ill. But there is a growing tendency toward reaching out into the communities through patients and families who have been helped. The future of this program will depend on the young people entering into the various fields of training to qualify for professional leadership in all areas of mental health.

Brook Lane Hospital has increased its patient capacity from 23 to 29 by remodeling an old CPS barracks for office space. A small wing is also being added to the hospital building to make room for 10 more patients. During the past year 202 patients were admitted.

In Kings View Homes, the second MCC hospital, occupancy grew to capacity volume with the development of the active program. Thirty patients were in the hospital at the close of 1952. A unit center is now being constructed in Reedley for housing single staff members and for a unit dining room and activity center. An occupational therapy building is also being planned.

The past year marked the beginning of construction on the third Mennonite mental hospital on a 50-acre tract one mile east of Newton, Kansas. They are now building a two unit hospital that will have a patient capacity of 40 beds. A noninstitutional program of family counseling and child guidance is being planned to start early next year.

V. Peace Section

The Peace Section office has continued its service to young men who have problems in securing the Selective Service classification to which they feel they are entitled under the regulations. In order that the needs of the young men with draft problems might be served more efficiently, the Peace Section has led in organizing a network of Peace Section Counselors to serve all communities and states where MCC constituent churches are located.

Constant contact with the Washington scene is maintained through the National Service Board for Religious Objectors, with Elmer Neufeld, Associate Secretary, as representative.

While the UMT bill was in the committee stage testimony was submitted to the Armed Services Committees, re-affirming the witness against the principle of UMT, and registering again the concern that adequate provision be made for conscientious objectors if any UMT plan should be adopted.

Representation on the matter of immigration and naturalization laws was continued by the Peace Section office and other persons and agencies, with the result that the bill which was finally passed continues the present provision of an alternative oath (or affirmation) under which persons whose religious convictions will not permit them to do any form of military service may be naturalized.

VI. I-W Services

The operation of the I-W program under Selective Service began on July 1, 1952, after months of indecision on the part of state Selective Service headquarters. Selective Service System National Headquarters estimated that there were approximately 385 I-W men as of Jan. 1, 1953, in service in various parts of the country and about 40 per cent of these are employed by approved private nonprofit agencies. The Mennonite Central Committee which serves as a central clearing agency for the MCC and constituent group programs using I-W men has accepted a total of 172 men, through the end of November, 1952. Of the 142 assignments completed 61 are in the foreign service and 81 in domestic service.

John H. Mellinger, 1858-1952

Ira D. Landis

John H. Mellinger was born in Strasburg Township, Lancaster County, Pa., Dec. 7, 1858, the son of Jacob and Elizabeth Hershey Mellinger. With Bishop Isaac Eby, his uncle, and his close association with other church leaders, he not only obtained an enlarged vision of the work of the Mennonite Church but he also learned the art of working with fellow brethren.

He married Barbara Denlinger, November 16, 1882, and started farming at Harristown, Pa. They reared four boys and a daughter. In 1895 he moved to the Lincoln Highway East, where his wife died in 1923, and his daughter Anna in 1924. They joined the Hershey Church when he was 24, being baptized by Isaac Eby.

Sunday schools were started following the 1871 Spring Conference decision but the opposition was still strong. When the Paradise Church in 1887 wanted to organize a Sunday school, they asked this farmer-brother to come from Hershey to head their school. This he did until 1895 when he moved into the Mellinger district. In the Paradise Sunday School through Bible readings, railroad accidents, and the Spirit's guidance, the Lord drove a missions' spirit through their hearts and lives. From this Sunday school came Mary Denlinger, A. Hershey Leaman, J. B. Buckwalter, Isaac Hershey, J. A. Ressler.

Brother Mellinger was among the leadership when the missionary movement crystallized at a meeting in his Harristown farmhouse. He was chosen vice-chairman of Home Mission Advocates. When the Lancaster County Sunday School Mission was organized, he was chairman as long as it existed. When the present Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities was organized in 1914-16, he again headed this enlarged movement and did so until 1934, serving almost forty years in these organizations. Although he dropped the mantle on younger shoulders, he served for over seventeen years as an honorary member of the Executive Committee.

He helped to frame the constitution for Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities in 1915 and the recent revised constitution and bylaws. He helped organize and write the constitution for the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities (Elkhart) (1906) and urged the Franconia brethren in 1917 to organize their own board.

He became the chairman of the board which launched the Millersville Children's Home in 1911, wisely selecting the Abram Eshleman site as the most appropriate of thirteen possible locations. He served thus for two decades.

During World War I he became concerned for relief needs in Europe. After searching for a suitable organization he decided that the most worthy was the American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker agency of Philadelphia. He with Aaron Loucks of Scottdale visited that group and arranged to channel Mennonite relief funds through that organization. This association with the Quaker agency proved mutually beneficial. Concerning the Mennonite Central Committee Brother Mellinger said, "Five of us organized it in 1920."

In connection with a proposal to send relief to German children about 1920 he met with the Friends Service Committee in which Rufus Jones presided. The opposition was strong when the chairman turned to Eli G. Reist and John H. Mellinger: "Possibly our friends from Lancaster County have something to say on this matter."

John spoke: "I could not agree with the last speaker as we Mennonites have an old Book that we consult in matters such as this and we consider it an unfailing authority in all matters of this nature, and in it we read that we are to love our enemies and do good to them that hate us, to feed the hungry, and clothe the naked. We do not feel like questioning who or what they are, but we have adopted these principles, and as followers of the One who proclaimed them, we would not desert them, but continue to carry them out; and that they can count on the Mennonites of Lancaster County to do their part in feeding the hungry children of Germany, even if she had been our enemy." A great ovation followed, the tide of the meeting was turned, and many German children were saved.

He encouraged the organization of our Associated Sewing Circles, aided in starting the Old People's Home, and other worthy projects found in him a booster.

Coming to Mellinger's he served as Sunday-school superintendent for four years and due to some opposition, stepped aside, but was a trustee of both church and cemetery for years. He passed through the lot with David Hostetter, Sanford B. Landis, and David L. Landis.

His greatest contribution was undoubtedly in the field of missions. From the start he helped mold the policies of the Board, by constitution, by counsel, by choosing personnel, and by directing the work from the start until Reading or Columbia, Philadelphia or Coatesville, or wherever, more than fifty mission stations were operating at one time.

Henry F. Garber writes: "He had missionary vision ahead of his generation. He was convinced of the authority of our Lord's command, 'Go ye.' "

Noah W. Risser writes: "My appreciation of him has been increased by the deep concern he had for our own Christian homes. He saw the need of more parental teaching. He felt that special efforts should be made to indoctrinate our fathers and mothers that they in turn may teach their children according to the foundational principles of the Gospel, for from these homes come our future leaders for home and foreign work."

Amos S. Horst writes: "Brother Mellinger was able to co-operate with his fellow workers in the work of the church and use the means that were available at the time. Thus with faith, love, patience, and courage he made a large contribution in the work of the Lancaster Conference activities and the Mennonite Church through the General Mission Board. He was very sensitive to what was necessary for co-operation in church organization and had a keen love for the Mennonite Church, of which he was a member."

John L. Stauffer writes: "Brother Mellinger was a joyful Christian and his missionary enthusiasm was contagious. He was an ardent believer in the imminent coming of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ and doubtless this was an incentive to him as it has been to multitudes of others."

S. C. Yoder writes: "He was one of those rare souls, of which there have always been too few, who could disagree with his brethren and stand positively on the opposite side of issues without hurting people or the cause, or without losing their confidence and respect.

"His position in the church was that of a layman, who was trusted with responsibilities that reached deeply into the inner affairs of the church. This standing which many others would have considered a handicap proved to be an advantage to him. He was not burdened with the problems of the ministry but saw the issues from both sides. This together with his sense of fairness, honesty, and loyalty made him a valuable counselor and adviser to all classes."

John D. Risser, 1882-1952

Noah H. Martin

John D. Risser, the son of John E. and Barbara (Martin) Risser, was born Dec. 4, 1882, near Maugansville, Md. His parents were farmers. After having farmed a few years, his father died, leaving his mother with four children. John was the youngest, a little over six months old when his father died. His mother later was married to Henry Baer, a widower with five children. To this union were born eight children; one died in infancy.

Brother Risser had a worthy background. His grandfather, Jacob Risser, and his uncle, Martin Risser, were ministers at the Reiff Church. His stepfather, Henry Baer, was a minister at the Miller Church. His stepfather was a great help to Brother Risser in his early ministry. Brother Risser united with the Miller Church in his youth and was baptized by Bishop George Keener.

Brother Risser never attended high school. The only learning he received was in the grade school. However, he did much studying and thus educated himself; he was also a lover of books and did much reading. He also was a good penman. As a deep thinker, he often remarked how many folks do not think for themselves.

On Jan. 5, 1905, he married Susan Eshleman of Kinzers, Pa. Her pleasing personality adorned with many Christian graces was a great help to Brother Risser in his ministry.

They began farming near Reid, Md. Later they bought a farm near Maugansville, Md. After farming successfully for a number of years, they sold their farm and equipment and moved back to Reid where he was engaged in painting and paperhanging. He later moved to Paramount, Md., and began cabinetmaking and repairing furniture.

On Aug. 23, 1920, he was ordained by Bishop George Keener, to the ministry by lot. There were eight in the lot, the writer being one of them. He was ordained to assist his stepfather, Henry Baer.

As a minister Brother Risser was a fluent speaker and was liked by his congregation. He firmly upheld the doctrines of the Bible, and teaching of the Mennonite Church.

In his early ministry he served as an evangelist and received calls from many churches, but due to a serious operation he gave up evangelistic work and did no preaching for more than a year.

After he regained his health, he was used in a larger field of activity. He served in many Bible conferences, ministers' conferences, Sunday-school programs, and Bible meeting programs. He helped to conduct Bible study classes for a number of winters. He also taught Sunday school for many years. He preached many funeral sermons, some calls away from home. He also married a few when the bishop was absent.

He was elected by the Washington and Franklin County Conference as a member of the Mennonite Publication Board for a number of years. He also served as Secretary of the Home Mission Board of the Washington County and Franklin County Conference for many years. He served on some programs for the Lancaster Mennonite School and also for the Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Va. He was very precise in all his undertakings and always investigated a report before he gave his decision. He was an inspiration to his co-workers and a real spiritual uplift to his congregation.

Brother Risser and wife were noted for their hospitality. Their home was open to many visitors who were graciously entertained as overnight guests and for meals. They also did much visiting at home and in other districts. The Lord endowed Brother Risser with many gifts. As counselor and instructor, he was noted for his sound advice. He had the power of influence, which perhaps he never was fully conscious of. The words he expressed made lasting impressions, especially upon the young folks.

He was always willing to serve in any capacity the church called him. What good deeds he has done will surely bring a harvest of good fruit. In the giving of his means, he was a cheerful giver. In prayer he could pray effectually in public, with the sick, in the home, and in family worship.

His two sons and three daughters are members of the Mennonite Church. One of his sons-in-law, Samuel Martin, was ordained to assist him in the ministry for the Miller Church.

Brother Risser took his responsibilities seriously. He served his church faithfully for over thirty-one years. On Jan. 19, 1952, he died at the Hagerstown Hospital as the result of a heart attack. His age was 69 years, 1 month, 15 days. His passing was a great loss in the home, in the church, and in the community. Surviving are his companion, two sons, three daughters, nineteen grandchildren, one great-grandchild, one brother (Jacob), one sister (Fannie), four half-brothers and three half-sisters. His one half-brother, Isaac Baer, is a minister and has charge of Steelton Mission, Pa. One half-sister is married to Stanley Martin who also is a minister. The funeral was held Jan. 22, 1952, with services in the home by Amos Martin and at the Reiff Church by Daniel Strite and Moses Horst. Text, II Sam. 7:12. Burial was made in the Paradise Cemetery.

Hagerstown, Md.

Jonas B. Miller, 1870-1952

Elmer G. Swartzendruber

It is rather unusual for someone to write the biography of a man who has all his life lived over eight hundred miles away. Not often, however, do folks live this far apart and yet come into contact with one another as I did with the late Jonas B. Miller. In this close relationship through correspondence, personal contacts, both in his home and in our own, and in work of conference, an appreciation for the unique characteristics and qualifications which were entirely his own, was developed. Advice which he gave after he had served over twenty years in the ministry, to myself as a young ordained man, was never forgotten. He said, "Be yourself, serve the Lord in meekness and fear, and do not try to imitate someone else."

Jonas was the son of the late Bishop Joel J. and Savilla (Beachy) Miller. He was born at Grantsville, Maryland, Dec. 10, 1870, and died on the old Miller homestead near Grantsville, Sept. 20, 1952, at the age of 81 years, 9 months, 10 days.

In his youth he embraced the Christian faith and became a member of the Amish Mennonite Church. On Oct. 5, 1893, he was married to Barbara Swartzentruber and to them were born five sons and seven daughters. Barbara preceded him in death on Mar. 27, 1923. One of the children preceded him in death but he lived to see all the other children grow to manhood and womanhood, and become faithful members of, and workers in, the church. At the time of his death, his posterity, besides the children, consisted of sixty-two grandchildren and twenty-four great-grandchildren.

On May 30, 1897, when he was twenty-six years old, he was ordained to the ministry by his father, Bishop Joel J. Miller. Thus he served in the work of the ministry over fifty-five years. His last sermon was preached on June 3, 1951, from I John 2:2-5. He conducted his last devotional services for the congregation on Aug. 26, 1951. One of his aged co-laborers, Bishop C. W. Bender, recalls that the theme of his first sermon in 1897 was, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

He served as English editor of the Herold der Wahrheit from 1917 to 1949, giving faithful, untiring effort to this work. He received very little remuneration and possibly the usual amount of criticism that accompanies such work for which he did not complain. The full extent of the influence of his writings will probably never be known in this world. Following in his footsteps in this editorship of the Herold is one of his sons, Evan, who since 1949 has carried on the work begun by others. One son, Ivan, who was contemporary with, now follows him in the work of the ministry in the home congregation. Another son, Harvey, was ordained for and is now engaged in mission work in Luxembourg. All the other members of the large family are currently in the congregation where he served and are results and evidences of the power of the Christian home.

Our evaluation of those who have lived among us must be made on the basis of the years when they were in their prime, and the alertness of their minds served them best. In the passing of Jonas B. Miller, the church has lost a loyal defender of the faith and an able expounder of the Word. Few men could so ably express themselves in word and in print without the advantage of a formal education.

He was an ardent supporter of conference as was evidenced by the fact that while health permitted there were few who missed less sessions of this body than he; he was also a staunch defender of the faith of our fathers which was expressed in part by his desire that at every session there would be a reavowal of our faith and an expression of full and explicit adherence to the adopted standard of the Word as set forth in our Confession of Faith.

His prayers were clear and definite and filled with adoration; his sermons were scholarly, and when in his prime, needed to be listened to carefully in order to be followed through and clearly understood. A great lover of nature, even the faintly heard call of a bird was not unnoticed. The trees and the flowers, the hills and the mountains, as well as the fertile plains of the west, all received from him their share of attention, as he often spoke and wrote of the beauties of nature.

He was careful and guarded almost to a fault, lest he do that which could not withstand the test of time, or upon which the approval of God could not rest. Of him could also be said, as was of another who passed on before him, "He did what he did because of what he was."

He was fearless and outspoken in defence of conservatism both in doctrine and life; but he was also tenderhearted and sympathetic and few were they who were more moved and touched by the suffering of others, than he. He was a keen observer of his surroundings and a good conversationalist. What he said was interesting and worth while and experiences which he related, both his own and those of others, were real and true.

He was one of the three remaining ministers in the Conservative Amish Mennonite Conference, who had been ordained previous to its organization in 1910. Church history was one of his special interests and he was well versed in it. The old type of Bible conference work in connection with evangelistic meetings, in which he was frequently used, were specially acceptable to him.

A very appropriate funeral service was held at the Maple Glen Meetinghouse near Grantsville, Maryland, with thirteen conference ministers from other congregations present.

May the life and teachings of faithful ones who have gone before, serve as an encouragement to remain firm and steadfast in the service of the Lord.

Wellman, Iowa.

Michael S. Zehr, 1872-1944

Raymond Byler

Michael S. Zehr faithfully "served his own generation by the will of God." He was a leader in the Conservative A.M. Conference and labored faithfully in the Pigeon River congregation. He served the church in many places, east and west, in Bible school, in evangelistic efforts, and Bible conferences. He had many friends, especially among the young folks in winter Bible school in which capacity he served away from home many times.

The writer has attempted to gather the secret of his useful life, from those who knew him best. I was deeply impressed by the lasting effects of his life while visiting in a home near Plain City, Ohio, a few years ago. This humble family had been visited a number of times by our brother. His singing with the children and words of encouragement, years before, were still cherished memories for them. Just a little over a year ago, a similar thing happened, near Alden, N.Y. A sister, while speaking to the children on Thanksgiving Day, told how she once stayed over night in the same home where Brother Zehr stayed. The inspiration of being awakened by a song coming from his room, lingered with her. He was singing,

"I owe the Lord a morning song
Of gratitude and praise,
For the kind mercy He has shown
In lengthening out my days."

Michael S. Zehr was born in Waterloo County, Ontario, November 7, 1872. He was the third son of Christian B. and Veronica Schultz Zehr. When still in his youth he accepted Christ as his Saviour and became a member of the Maple View Congregation near Wellesley, Ont. Already in his youth it was evident that he had qualities which would be essential as a future leader. Particularly the ability to make decisions without hesitation and carry them out. Before he was of age he received an offer from his father, that for a certain sum of money he would be free to seek his own fortune. He came to the States and in about half the expected time the debt was paid. As a hired man it was related that often he could be heard audibly while engaged in his private devotions.

Early in 1900 he with his wife (maiden name Zehr) whom he had married on November 29, 1894, left their home at Croghan, N.Y., and came to Huron County, Michigan. They were the first family of the future Pigeon River congregation to arrive there. In the spring of 1902 he helped to organize the Sunday school and became the first superintendent. He was also on the board of trustees when the church was organized and the church building erected one year later. On Sept. 22, 1905, he was ordained by lot to the ministry. Here as in all his duties he was ready and willing to give his best. His zeal and willingness was shown when he told the bishop in charge that he should never make a request unless he meant it, as he would be foolish enough to try it. Early in his ministry he manifested an interest in mission work and at two different times he labored in the Ozarks in Dent County, Mo. He was ordained to the office of bishop on Nov. 30, 1930.

He and his companion made their home the scene of comfort and encouragement to many, friends, visitors, and strangers. They had only one child, but a home was made for a number of other children at various times. After the passing of his companion he made his home with his daughter. But this not for long. Being afflicted with asthma which became very serious, he left home in November, 1943, to seek a climate that would bring him relief. He spent the winter near Phoenix, Ariz., where he soon improved. So much so that he returned the next spring to Michigan to assist in holding communion and ordination services. In less than a week, however he was forced to return and made plans to move permanently taking a small truck load of furnishings with him.

At his departure his family still remember very vividly how with hat in hand he quoted with fervor the words of Paul in II Tim. 4:6-8. Arriving at Phoenix he prepared to make his home at Sunnyslope for himself and his son-in-law and family who would join him in a few months. But this was not to be so. His affliction on his return trip left him weak and he suffered a great deal at times. During this time he made one short trip to Upland, Calif., for the then small congregation there. He was never satisfied unless he was in congregations of worshipers on the Lord's Day whenever possible. At times he attended and assisted in the services at the Presbyterian Desert Mission in Sunnyslope and also at the Church of the Brethren in Glendale, where he preached his last sermon on June 26, 1944. According to notes left in his Bible his subject for this sermon was "Faith." On July 5 he passed away in a local hospital. The funeral was held in his home church at Pigeon River. His body was laid to rest by the side of his companion resting in the "hope of the glory of God," a Scripture he loved and often quoted. In his last letter written to his home folks and mailed July 4 he as always in his letters never failed to close with a line of praise to his dear heavenly Father. He wrote, "Again, finally, praying, trusting, waiting for whatever the dear Lord may have for us. To Him be all praise, honor evermore. Amen. Sincerely and truly, Grandpa."—Jacob D. Esch (son-in-law).

From 1933 to the time of his death in 1944 I had the privilege of serving with him in the executive committee of our conference, and in this time we traveled thousands of miles together, mostly in his car, and often with no other company present but us two, and the memories of those trips still linger as I recall the times of spiritual refreshing in hearing him talk of the Lord and His Word. Then again singing parts of spiritual songs and hymns as we drove along. Especially the words of the song, the chorus of which was:

I am working the road, working the road;
Helping the weak and blind.
I want to smooth out the road,
That leads to heaven's abode,
And make it easy for those behind.

Never on these trips together do I remember an exhibition of a spirit other than a sincere, serious concern that the will of the Lord might be done, and yet on several occasions do I recall where his was a sternness, with kindness, that was not to be misunderstood, and each of these times later developments proved the need and wisdom of such action.

My last personal association with him was on May 9, less than two months before his death, when we were permitted to labor together in a bishop ordination in Arenac County, Mich., and two days later in the home congregation at Pigeon. Thus his heart's desire was reached—to arrange for the work under his care to be carried on. In fact this trip to Michigan and return undoubtedly was the cause of shortening his days here on earth so far as man could see.

Frequently upon retiring for the night when we slept together I heard him softly uttering words of gratitude to the Lord for the blessings of the day, and a committal of self into His hands for the night.—Elmer G. Swartzendruber.

Our contacts were principally in mission activities. He had a deep concern for the lost, especially those that did not know the Gospel. He was willing to spend and be spent for the Gospel. He loved to get young people busy in the work of the Lord and in working with them. He preached the Gospel without partiality regardless of place or circumstances. He had the same ringing testimony for all, "Salvation Through Christ." He tried to practice what he preached and to be a good example to others.—Noah Swartzendruber.

He was the instrument to do me much good in many ways. As secretary-treasurer of the home church, I was in many meetings with him. I always admired his enthusiasm in whatever he was called to do.—Henry D. Esch.

We have always appreciated his zeal in moving forward in the Lord's work, and in preaching the Word in no uncertain sound. He loved to teach the Word systematically so that young people would get a clear view of the Word. As a bishop he was concerned about the congregation that they might grow spiritually and abstain from worldliness, or anything that would hinder the future welfare of the church.

In coping with problems he often would wonder what Jesus would do. He emphasized the Jesus' way for all problems. He was willing to ask forgiveness of those whom he felt he had grieved in any way.—Emanuel Swartzendruber.

The writer was ordained as a minister in the Pigeon River congregation by Brother Zehr, four years before his passing. It is hard for us to appreciate all that was back of his message at the fortieth anniversary of the congregation. He wrote, "The dear Lord was indeed very good to us in these forty years. We missed not a single communion. We grew from a small beginning to where the present record shows a membership of 285 including those of near-by mission stations. To our kind Heavenly Father be all the praise."—Raymond Byler.

I think two things made his life valuable. His devotional life and his close adherence to the Word of God. On one occasion while crossing a mountain in the South on a trip to investigate mission possibilities, Brother Zehr suggested a season of prayer quite some distance below the mountain roadway on a large rock. I remember the presence of the Lord was very impressive. On his journey to Arizona in search for health his interest centered on a discussion of the "precious Word." Such passages as Hebrews 11, where Moses made the wise choice, and the Sermon on the Mount were entered into in great detail and were dwelt upon with much delight. Christ was his foundation and the Word of God was his guide.—Nevin Bender.

* The above tabulation represents contributions received by the Treasurer of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities including contributions received directly by the city missions and charitable institutions under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Charitable contributions include only contributions that were received by the Treasurer and not payments made by patrons of the charitable institutions. Other contributions not included in this tabulation are annuities and district board contributions not forwarded to the Treasurer at Elkhart. Most of the contributions under General Fund of missions have been used for home work. Figures are for the fiscal year ending April 1.
